Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 25 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry day with long sunny spells, feeling very warm.

Today:
Any mist and fog will soon clear early on, leaving dry conditions. Sunny through the day in the north, cloud will clear by mid-afternoon in the south of the region. Feeling very warm in the sunshine with light winds. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Tonight:
A clear and dry evening. Plenty of clear spells through the night, some areas, particularly in the east, may have some slight drizzle. The possibility of some fog patches forming. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:
Cloudy to start, breaking up through the morning, leaving a dry day with long sunny spells. Feeling slightly cooler on Thursday. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Fine and dry with sunny spells on Friday. Cloudier on Saturday though with some sunny spells and remaining dry. Long sunny spells and dry on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.